“Home Grown, Home Made”

McCabe Park Wollongong

Saturday, 6 November 2010

Wollongong’s premier celebration of creativity, sustainability, diversity, innovation and community, Viva La Gong Festival, is seeking Expressions of Interest (EOI’s) from individuals, community organisations, local businesses and the arts community for its 2010 edition.

The main event will take place at McCabe Park on Saturday, 6 November 2010 under the theme “Stories from Land and Sea”, exploring issues of migration, diversity, the sea, sustainability, the environment and other related matters. Creative projects that explore these themes are encouraged.

The Festival will start with a Street Parade that will travel to McCabe Park where an exciting cultural program will provide a unique experience to the people of Wollongong, generating a strong sense of community pride. There will be an international food section, arts and craft market, an eco village and multiple stages and performance areas showcasing local and visiting artists throughout the day and into the early evening, when the crowd will enjoy a grand finale.

We are inviting you to participate in our festival by having a stall, display and / or workshop on Saturday, 6 November 2010. Priority will be given to artists and designers to showcase their own work.

Please note there will be cost and compliance requirements.
